RedBOND Composites is the European Aluminium Composite Panel Manufacturer, located in Alicante (SPAIN) with modern machinery and advanced manufacturing technology. RedBOND was created to satisfy the need to supply quality materials at competitive prices and with delivery times that were unthinkable until now.

RedBOND is the result of a combination of professionalism, technological development and optimization in all processes, which allow us to offer the best products, in the shortest possible time and at a competitive price. We seek operational excellence in each process, always complying with the most demanding European norms and regulations.

RedBOND Composites has designed its own product range to suit each target market. Each product differs mainly in the aluminium thickness and is available in different finishes and dimensions according to the customer's needs.

RedBOND panels are manufactured with incredible flatness and with a special coating that allows strong adhesion between the inks and the panel.
